Application No. 09/854,101

Art Unit: 2137

My husband, Hung-Yu Lin, passed away on 2/23/2002. I asked one of his friends, Dr. Guno Gung, professor at University of Waterloo, to take a look at the patent and the correspondence. She specializes in this field too. She told me the patent my late husband proposed was correct. The proposal emphasized public keys, not the private keys or the two papers that were sent to me.

I know nothing about encoding and am unable to elaborate upon that. I do know that he spent a lot of time on this proposal. I can still remember how devoted he was. This patent is in memory of him, even though I am unable to do anything more for him. I still would like to request the patent office to take these special circumstances into consideration and place this patent into filing.

Sincerely,

Su Cheng Wang
